Initial Complaint Narrative

story: As I was coming out of my building complex I was arrested for no apparent reason, just because I gave a panhandler some change. I explained to the officer that I lived there but he refused to even look at my NYS Id. I explained to the officer that I was going to the store and that this man asked me for some change. He handcuffed me and took me to the precinct, where they did a strip search, upon finding no drugs on my person Officer issued me two summons. One for █████ another for ███████████ . How could someone get a summons for █████████ in front of the building where you live. Its ridiculous that someone could get arrested for just living in a certain neighborhood know that I have not been the only person that this has happened to. Its getting so that citizens are more scared of the cops than the drug dealers. This is the second time that I have been issued a summons for trespass in the last month in this housing complex ███████
